

Project Status report

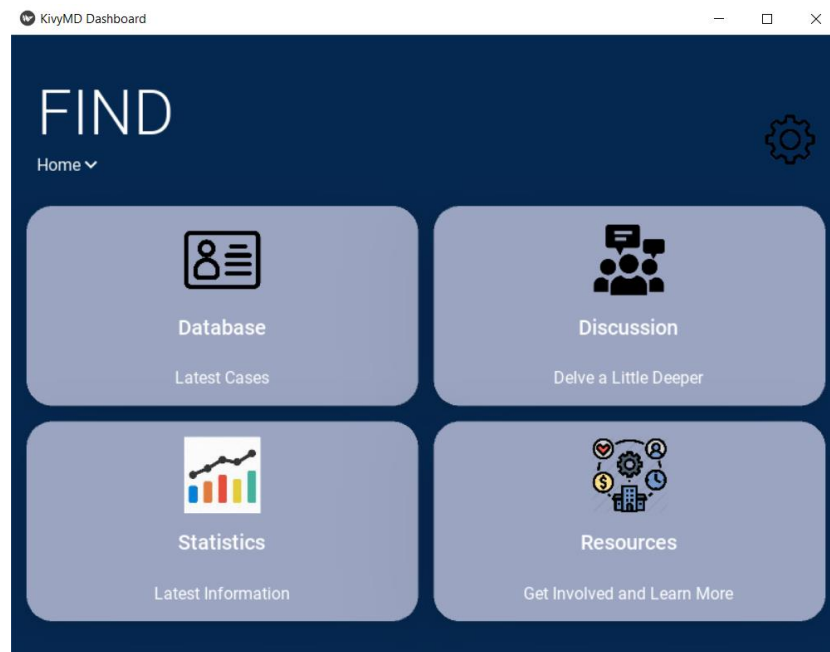

Name:	Qurrat Ulain
Community (UN SD goal):	#16 – Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions, #4 – Quality Education
MVP #	1
Sprint cycle dates:

Project Name	Find
Blurb	This app aims to facilitate the process of finding missing people or those on the run from the police. It will have a knowledge aspect to it that will address some of the underlying themes and issues targeting vulnerable people in Regina such as poverty and racism. This app focuses on promoting peace and inclusive societies for sustainable development and providing access to justice for all, following the 16th UN Sustainable goal, with a minor focus on goal #4, Quality Education.
For Week Ending	November 5, 2021
Project Status	Yellow
Status Description	Due to a family emergency, my progress for the last two weeks had been impacted severely, and it is taking me some time to catch up. However, I am planning on working on the MVP's a lot more during the break, and aim to be in the green zone by next scrum.

Activities—During the past sprint cycle

During this past sprint cycle, I attempted to get into contact with the RCMP several times, looked into alternative options if I'm not able to work with them, and began coding the project. I was able to code the main tool page for users to arrive to when they open the app.

A screenshot of the output so far is below:

Project Issues

Currently, the biggest issue I am facing is how to connect my app to the RCMP database if they won't talk to me. The best alternative at the moment seems to be to just create a temporary database for the project as to demo a working prototype that could be implemented in the larger community if given the chance

Activities—Planned for Next Week

In the next week, I plan on fully implementing the educational aspect of the app, as well as the database of missing persons. I also aim to code for the settings of the app and improve usability.

Reflection

Do you feel "on track"?

- I don't feel particularly on track at the moment, but I am hopeful of my plans to get on track in the coming week.

What progress do you particularly feel good (great) about?

- Considering my circumstances, I feel good that I was able to focus and achieve some sort of progress on my project, as that did not feel doable last week.

What barriers (if any) do you feel is/are a current impediment to success?

- The only barrier I feel is an impediment at the moment is my access to the Regina Police's database

What help (if any) do you require to move positively forward?

- I don't require any specific help, but any advice on the best way to structure my database if I can't get in touch with Regina Police would be great, thank you

What questions or concerns do you have (if any)?
